RV SHOPPING TIPS FOR PET PARENTS

For pet parents who call the fifth wheel or an RV their home, it is important to keep in mind their pets' comfort/safety when shopping for an RV. We at Waggle interact with 1000s of RVers across the US, and here are 5 shopping tips for pet parents looking to buy or upgrade their RV.

There will be many occasions you will be leaving your pups behind in the RV, so make sure the RV has space for crates/kennels, so your fur babes are safe when they are home alone. Bunk bed areas are a great option.

Climate Control/Temperature monitor :

Please make sure the space for your dog is climate-controlled. In any case, it is better to install an RV Pet Temperature Monitor to get absolute peace of mind when you leave your pups behind.

Flooring/Floor Plan:

If you have a large dog, open space is key to ensuring your fido has ample room to lay and move around. Also, go for non-carpet floors that are dog-friendly and easy to clean/maintain.

Outdoor Shower:

RVs with outdoor shower options provide an easy, quick wash-up for your fido after their muddy adventures!

Ample storage:

Slide-out storages are the best from a space-saving perspective. Pets need a lot of accessories (toys, fence, food bowls, etc.), and you are better off being able to stow them safe in your RV.
